WEATHER FORECAST .- Friday, fair; increasing cloudiness.

FRIDAY-REMNANT DAY

Here's an unsolicited compliment. We were told the other day by a lady just back from a large northern city that she felt proud of Miller & Rhoads', as in variety, price and arrangement of stocks it was the equal of all and the superior of many stores that she visited. She saw stores much larger but none better.

in Richmond — What He Thinks of Amalgamation. Mr. Thomas Gallaher, of Belfast, freland, one the largest tobacco manufacturers in all Great Britian, will pit his cigarette, the "Gold Plate," against the brands of both the American Tobacco and the Imperial Tobacco Company. Not only will he compete for the trade in England, but he will place his wares on American markets and will in all probability erect a factory in Richmond. If the venture meets with success here will do the same in other cities. "I will not form a combination with anybody," said Mr. Gallaher, yesterday morning. "The rumors which have been printed from time to time to the effect that I would head a union of concern in Ireland and England are utterly false It will be the Galiaher Company, Limited, and nobody else. My cigarette is the finest thing out and it will be only a matter of time when I can whip the other brands off. I shall in all probability build a plant here for the manu flecture of these cigarettes on this side the water. I have had such a scheme in my head for some time. Of course, if I meet with success here I shall start factories in other places.

HIS VIEW OF THE AMALGAMATION Mr. Gallaher reached Richmond yeserday afternoon en route for New York and will be here about a week. He is on one of his periodical trips to this country, where, in several different places, including Richmond, he has rehandling plants. After a short stay here he will keep on his way north, sailing from New York for his headquarters in Belfast.

When seen yesterday, Mr. Gallaher gave out the above statement concerning his plans for the future and in addition spoke interestingly of the amalgamation spoke interestingly of the amalgamatous of the British and American interests.

In the opinion of Mr. Gallaher, Mr. James Buchanan Duke, of the American Tobacco Company, will be found, when the smoke clears away, on top. How much on top he is not capable of saying, but that Mr. Duke has been spikinged ant as many hers think Mr. whipped out, as many here think, Mr.

Gallaher does not believe.

Just what the amalgation means Mr.
Gallaher could not say. He referred to the conflicting reports and declared it to be impossible at this time to read between the lines. One thing in the new arrangement struck him at once—that Mr. Duke is now on the Board of Directors of the Imperial Tobacco Company.

The effect of the amalgamation. Mr.
Gallaher thinks will be hard upon exporters in America.

porters in America.
